Farmers call for disaster rating, as foreclosures, land loss eminent

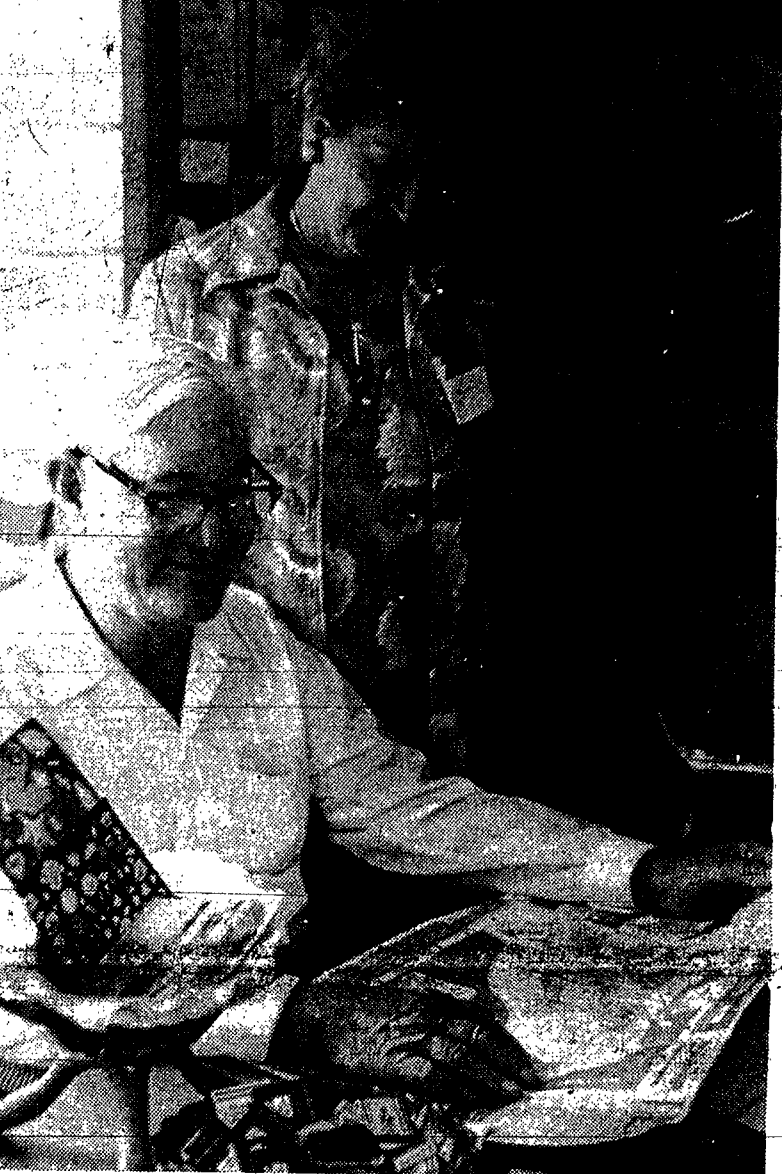

by JAKE JACOB
Soybean farmer Clarence Lee of Bienville Community (south of Leetown off State Highway 43) on Tuesday called on the County Farm Bureau to endorse his bid to have Hancock declared a disaster area. Lee had previously sought and obtained the nod from the county's supervisors who on Monday called upon their attorney, Sam Favre, to meet with State Representative J.P. Compretta, also an attorney, for the purpose of composing a resolution to this effect. The resolution to be sent to all local political entities, including Governor Cliff Finch, Senator John C. Stennis, Congressman Trent Lott, State Senator Martin Smith, Compretta, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS), Soil Conservation Service (SCS), Farmer's Home Administration (FmHA), and County Agent.

The resolutions, though directed towards the same aims, differ in content, the supervisors calling on the governor to declare the county a disaster area, while the farm bureau adopted the more cautious route of asking for an update and review of a previously submitted presentation seeking to have the county put into the disaster category. Lee told the supervisors the county had received no measurable rainfall between May 2 and July 3, and this drought had "wiped out" the corn and water melon producers, and seriously hampered soybean, grain, and feeder crops. The county emergency committee submitted a program to Jackson, through the ASCS office in Poplarville asking the governor to declare the county a disaster area in mid-July. This report was tabled at the state level, according to Lee, "because we had some rain at about the same time." The thought was, he indicated, that as the rains had arrived the county's farmers were no longer in trouble. "It costs the farmers $130 an acre to take the soybeans to the elevator and we will be lucky to sell our crop at $75 an acre."

"If we manage to get that price we will still be $55 an acre short of" (Continued on Page 8A)

Three day hike given pokey term

by JAKE JACOB
The menhaden fishing industry (pokey boat) got a break on Friday when Dr. Richard Leard, executive director, Mississippi Marine Conservation Commission, argued in favor of extending the season some three days for "socio-economic" reasons. Leard said that moving the season's final day to the end of the week from the present second Tuesday in October would result in a more socio-economically acceptable season. The season is now therefore slated to end at sunset on Oct. 14 instead of Oct. 11. Commissioner J.E. Thomas sought postponement of the decision until next year, a time he said that would permit advertising the change and the holding of a public hearing if such were proved of necessity. A second note of caution was interjected by Commissioner Bobby O'Barr who claimed the measure would set a precedent for other marine oriented industries resulting in a sheaf (Continued on Page 4A)

UNITED WAY COUNTRY COLLECTORS Mr. and Mrs. George W. Schaeffer are annual fund campaigners in Clermont Harbor, and Lakeshore districts of Hancock County. Couple, both retired, are avid workers in community as evidenced here during their term on Thursday morning as volunteer workers at Waveland Hospitality Station on US-90. Fund, which opened Sept. 1, has target of $40,000 for 1977.

Oyster laws reflect new reef changes

by EDGAR PEREZ
Oyster tonging reefs on the bottomlands of Bay St. Louis between the railroad and highway bridges will be opened once again to harvesting when a new season gets underway at sunrise Tuesday, Sept. 20. The Mississippi Marine Conservation Commission, in action taken this week, also opened another previously prohibited area to harvesting off Long Beach. The areas had been closed because their waters did not meet State Board of Health standards for oyster harvesting. Also this week, the commission postponed the effective enforcement date of a new ordinance limiting on-board oyster catches to 60 sacks or up to 120 sacks with prior permission. The new catch limit will not take effect until after the first Monday in (Continued on Page 4A)

City schools to seek .05 mill hike for lunchroom

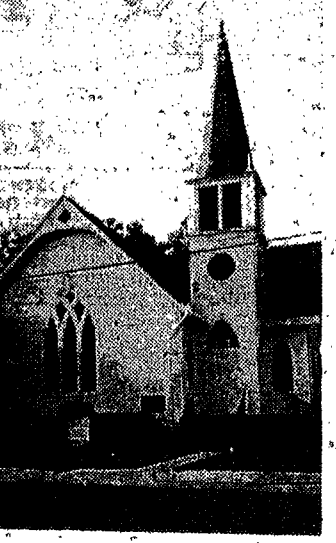

by EDGAR PEREZ
The Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District's board of trustees Monday night approved preliminary plans to construct a new $214,000 cafeteria facility at Bay Junior High and authorized application for $17,000 in state funds to renovate the lunch room at North Bay Elementary. At Main St. Church

Methodists to celebrate 125 years as congregation

by JAKE JACOB
Main Street Methodist Church, established in Bay St. Louis 1842, is to celebrate its 125th Anniversary on Sunday in services at the church. The celebration will be followed by the dedication of the Educational Building with the message being delivered by Bishop Mack B. Stokes. Introduction of the bishop will be performed by Rev. T. Willard Leggett, III, district superintendent of the Seashore District. During the special anniversary service, to begin at 11 a.m., a silent tribute will be rendered to the heroes of "One and One Fourth Centuries." Committee for the dedication and 125th anniversary consists of: Mrs. William R. Pitcairn, chairperson; Mrs. Robert Delcuzze; Dave McDonald; Mrs. William Sanders; Dr. Gilbert Oliver, pastor. William Pitcairn, lay leader, will read the first scripture lesson; Phil Seeger, chairman, administration board, the second scripture lesson.

During the dedication, Herbert Jeffery, chairman, board of trustees, will present the educational building "...to be dedicated to the glory of God and the service of men." According to the official history sheet, Main Street Methodist Church was organized in 1852, by E.D. Pitts, school teacher and local preacher, the town then being known as Shieldsboro. Worship services were held in a small building at the corner of Main and Second Streets on property donated some six years earlier by J.V. Toulme. The church was dedicated in 1897 by Bishop Charles B. Galloway, the same year in which a disastrous fire destroyed about half the town. The church building itself was completed around the turn of the century and, in 1936, under the pastorate of Rev. J. Early Gray, a six classroom annex was constructed at the rear of the present sanctuary.

Mid-Atlantic now where buoys are EB-07 checks into 'Hotel' Cutter Taney turns in key

Instrumented by and built for the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's Data Buoy Office (NOAA-DBO) at NASA-NSTL, Bay St. Louis, data buoy EB-07 was on Monday towed from Gulfport on the first leg of its journey to mid-Atlantic to replace the US Coast Cutter Taney at Ocean Station Hotel, on Sept. 30, thus ending an era. For thirty-seven years Coast Guard cutters have carried out ocean weather patrols, providing vital links in the nation's weather network. The job is being taken over by data buoys from the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, and the last of the weather ships-USCGC Taney-will soon turn over its weather measuring and reporting to NOAA's EB-07 data buoy. Use of the big buoy will result in a savings to the taxpayer of about $3 million annually. In addition, the crew of 140 officers and enlisted men of the USCGC Taney will be freed for other Coast Guard assignments. EB-07 will be on duty year round, as opposed to the nine-month coverage provided by the ships. The buoy is a 40-foot diameter, 100-ton automated data collection platform that will be moored in 9,000 feet of water a two-inch diameter nylon line. It will report wind speed and direction, barometric pressure, air and surface seawater temperatures, and wave height and periods. Three buoys on station in the Gulf of Mexico recently rode out hurricanes Anita and Babe, sending back vital weather information every hour to hurricane forecasters ashore. EB-07 was built by General Dynamics under contract to the NOAA Data Buoy Office, a Department of Commerce installation at Bay St. Louis. The Data Buoy office is a part of NOAA's Office of Ocean Engineering. At least once every three hours, EB-07 will report its measurements to a shore receiving station, which will send them along to NOAA's National Weather Service for use in the next weather forecast. In critical storm situations, when conditions are changing rapidly, the National Weather Service can command the buoy to provide hourly reports, to permit hurricane and severe storm watchers to keep better track of what is happening at sea. Bids asked for airport EDA projects

The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission this week is advertising for bids on a $100,000 phase of its Stennis International Airport and Industrial Park improvement program. The bids are to be opened on Sept. 30, according to Wilson Webre, commission director. Also this week, the commission (Continued on Page 4A)

Ikebana highlights garden club

By MRS. FRED B. BOOKHARDT
PUBLICITY CHAIRWOMAN

Plans, projects and Ikebana highlighted the opening meeting of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club on Thursday, September 8, at the Garden Center. Mrs. Rosamond Wallace, guest speaker, gave a most interesting talk on the ancient art of Japanese flower arrangement, Ikebana.

Supplementing her talk with sketches and beautiful arrangements, Mrs. Wallace delighted the members with many helpful suggestions.

A new project was inaugurated for more member participation. During the course of the meeting, Mrs. Herman Mazarakis, President, called on the chairmen of Artistic Design, Mrs. Paul M. Miller, Birds, Mrs. R. W. Nicaise, and Horticulture, Mrs. Clarence Evans, to introduce members they appointed to give two-minute talks on their designated subjects. Mrs. John Holmes presented an Artistic Design arrangement for a few words of criticism by Mrs. Wallace. Mrs. Waldo Otis gave an amusing account of the "peasant" type birds that visit her garden. Mrs. Clarence Evans announced that cuttings from the same type of plant would be given to members who attend the picnic meeting on October 6 at the home of Mrs. Jan Brameyer in Waveland. Plants grown from these cuttings will be exhibited in a special class at the Spring Flower Show, April 21 and 22.

Avenue of Magnolia chairman, Mrs. Robert Cuendet, urged members to give a $2.00 donation or memorial to buy a tree to be planted on the highway. Let's "KEEP MISSISSIPPI BEAUTIFUL!"

Last year's Yearbook received an Honorable Mention certificate, reported Mrs. Clarence Evans, Awards Chairman. The new Yearbooks were distributed by Mrs. Jan Brameyer, with grateful acknowledgment to the artist, Mrs. Grady Byrd, who so generously donated his drawing for the cover. Attention was called to the artist's sketches which adorned the walls of the Center. Mr. Byrd is a Gulf Coast resident who won the Mississippi Gulf Coast Sketch Contest, and has been commissioned to do a series, "Leaders", among whom are well-known personalities.

Pilgrimage Chairman Mrs. George Seuzeneau, Jr. urged members to make suggestions and participate in the Spring Pilgrimage to be held on March 29.

Mrs. John Pritchett, Co-Chairman with Mrs. Julian Lorenzen of the Ways and Means Committee, announced the date of the Flea Market, November 19, and asked members to start making or putting aside articles they'd like to contribute.

Garden of the Month for Bay St. Louis is at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Parrish on Sunset Boulevard.

Youth Gardeners Chairman Mrs. John H. Cook, Jr., with assistants Mrs. Randolph Bourgeois, Senior High, and Mrs. W.W. Goodsell, Junior High, have organized Garden Clubs in these schools, and already have 34 members in Senior High and 25 in Junior High.

Garden Club members continue to place floral arrangements monthly in both the Bay St. Louis and Waveland libraries.

Memorial Gardens Chairman Mrs. Lelyn Nybo, Bay St. Louis, and Mrs. Horatio Weston, Waveland, report much work needs to be done because of the drought during the early summer.

Two new members were introduced by Mrs. Clarence Evans, Membership Chairman; Mrs. John A. Green and Mrs. Kenneth B. Peery.

Mrs. Gordon Gleim, Hostess Chairman for the meeting, was ably assisted by Mesdames Ruble Griffin, John Newkirk, Harold Powell, George Greenfield, Fred McDonald, H.M. Keefe, Helene Price, George Lee, and David Johnson.

Pearlington booster hear Penton

by LILLIAN NELSON

The Pearlington Athletic Booster Club held their monthly meeting Aug. 30, in the Charles B. Murphy cafeteria.

The speaker for the evening was the new principal at CBM, J.D. Penton. Penton spoke on how he looked forward to working with the Booster Club and how the facilities of CBM would be available to the Booster Club. He reminded us that the schools in Hancock County were "our schools" and encouraged the Club to utilize the school property. Officers and directors for the 1977-78 year were: Mickey Gaudin, president; Rickey Boyett, vice president; Mrs. Forrest Summers, treasurer; and Lillian Nelson, secretary. Board members are: Chandler Reynolds, Rocky Gaudin, Floyd "Smitty" Smith, Marks Wilkerson and Stanley Benigno. It was voted that the principal would be ex officio member of the Executive Board.

It was also decided that the Booster club would have at 7:30 p.m. its regular monthly meeting the first Tuesday of each month in the school cafeteria.

The next membership meeting will be Oct. 4.

STOLEN PROPERTY—Chief Dep. Ronnie Peterson, left, and Dep. Floyd Fricke survey more than $3,000 in stolen property recovered after a three-month investigation into burglary operations in Hancock County. Sheriff Sylvan Ladner reported the arrest of two men in Louisiana in connection with theft and sale of the items. They are identified as Michael Pagle, 21, of Chauvin, La., charged with burglary, and Lester J. Zimmerman, 51, of Paradis, La., charged with possession of stolen goods. The sheriff said the investigation was conducted in cooperation with the St. Charles Parish, La., sheriff's office. The stolen items, taken in burglaries throughout Hancock County, may be recovered by owners upon proper identification of the lost items at the sheriff's office in Bay St. Louis. Other Hancock County officers participating in the investigation were Paul Bernard, investigator, and Dep. Delbert Seay. (Staff photo-Edgar Perez)

Army to make test available

Hancock and Harrison County high schools and other educational institutions will be given the opportunity to have the Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Battery (ASVAB) test administered to their students by Army personnel, free of cost or obligation, to the school or local government.

The ASVAB is a Department of Defense High School Testing and Recruiting Program, administered to students in participating high schools and other educational institutions.

Recruiters from the military services arrange to administer the ASVAB to high school students grades 10-12. Ninth graders may also be tested, if desired, as well as vocational-technical schools.

In the near future, Army recruiters will be calling on educators throughout the district to offer them the opportunity.

ASVAB results serve a dual purpose; they point up those students who qualify for military technical schools, and indicate student aptitudes (those fields of endeavor in which they are most, or least, likely to be successful) and this is an invaluable aid to educators for counseling and career exploration.

ASVAB scores are valid for two years for the purpose of military enlistment. These results are used for military services classification, and aptitude results for service school selection and placement; and the Army is successful—students do well in the schools they attend. By the same token, the aptitude scores are most beneficial to school counselors in their evaluations and individual career guidance.

The Pass Christian Garden Club held its first meeting of the 1977-78 fiscal year Sept. 8 at 1:30 p.m. at the Trinity Episcopal Church Parish House.

After welcoming members, the President, Mrs. R. Parnell McKay, called on Mrs. Harry Gammett to introduce the speaker of the day, Mrs. Charlotte Lamey, a representative of the Mississippi Power Company. Mrs. Lamey gave an extremely interesting and informative illustrated talk titled "Growing Plants Under Lights." She made it quite clear how inexpensively and effectively this can be done successfully without major technical knowledge.

The president then recalled the members to the business of the day by introducing the new officers and committee chairmen.

Acknowledging the new president's introduction were: Mrs. Harry Hammett, Jr., first vice-president; Mrs. Logan Cline, second vice-president; Mrs. Charles Spillman, recording secretary; Mrs. Otis Trepagnier, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Crane Fitz-wilson, treasurer; Mrs. William Curren, parliamentarian; Mrs. Charles Darrell, historian; Miss Marjorie Knost and Miss Adele Bielenberg, chaplains. Sandlin, Miss Jane Northrup, and Mrs. Harry Hammett.

The new Year Books were distributed which detailed the programs for the balance of the year. They are diversified, oriented to instruction and helpfulness in gardening and last but by no means least, promise to be thoroughly enjoyable.

The meeting closed with delicious and beautifully served refreshments.

Get To Know Him...

Many people, unfortunately, give little or no thought to the selection of a funeral director until his services are needed. Then this important decision must be made suddenly, without sufficient time for investigation or comparison. For this reason, we earnestly recommend that some thought be given to this matter in advance. It is not morbid to do this—merely good, common sense.

One safe guide to follow is the same method used to judge the capabilities of any business or professional man. Another is the recommendation of friends. Then there are such explicit points as his standing in the community; the type of funeral home he maintains; his ability to render intelligent and understanding service.

The person you will some day rely on for a very personal and intimate service will welcome the opportunity to discuss funeral service and funeral costs with you. Your investigation of all that he has to offer will cause no embarrassment either to you or to him, and you will be under no obligation whatsoever.

Oysters...

January, 1978.

The enforcement delay was granted at the request of the steamed oyster industry which relies on the harvest of large quantities of small oysters.

The legal minimum size will be reduced also in January from three to two and one-half inches in length.

The oyster season is being opened late this year to allow the necessary two to three weeks for oysters moved from polluted reefs to privately leased areas where they are spread over bottom lands for a self cleansing process.

Dr. Richard Leard, the commission's executive director, said the state oyster moving program ended Sept. 2. Some 6,500 barrels were transplanted from Pascagoula's polluted waters and 25,000 from Biloxi Bay.

Federal Food and Drug Administration inspectors have given the moving operations a good report, Leard said.

The Bay St. Louis reefs were open to moving operations, said Leard, but no oysters were moved.

In addition, Leard reported, private leases moved about 11,700 barrels from Biloxi Bay and 4,235 from Pascagoula waters.

Leard reported the commission spent its allocated $50,000 on the state oyster moving project.

During the season opening next week, new laws subject a fisherman caught taking oysters between sunset and sunrise to a fine of up to $10,000 and sentence of up to one year in jail.

The new laws are part of a package passed by the state legislature last spring which permit private leasing of oyster reefs in Mississippi Sound.

The new laws also allow the commission for the first time to confiscate and impound a fishing vessel owned by a violator.

It will also be illegal to have an oyster dredge on a boat on a tonging reef. State owned reefs are to be designated with appropriate markers to aid both fishermen and law enforcement officers, Leard said.

Charges are pending against three men who were arrested in August and charged with oystering out of season, oystering in a restricted area and oystering without a license.

The case is expected to be a test of the new powers granted the commission by the legislature.

In other law enforcement matters, the commission has requested an attorney general's ruling on legality of a cooperative formed to farm oysters by eight holders of individual leases.

The eight leases are adjoining properties off Belle Fontaine Point, Jackson County, and are held by members of Mississippi Gulf Coast Oyster Corporation.

State law allows individuals to lease up to 100 acres provided they own 10 percent of a corporation.

Commissioner Robert O'Barr said persisting rumors to the effect the commission has shown favoritism in issuance of bottomlands leases are unfounded.

"The People who have complied with the law and regulations...their leases have been approved," he said. "Everybody has had a chance," he emphasized.

EDA bids...

received the go-ahead from the county board of supervisors to proceed with applications to the federal government for additional funds totaling $1 million to continue a projected $1.6 million program of improvements at the Stennis complex.

The $100,000 phase of the project, already funded with local public works monies from the U.S. Economic Development Administration (EDA) will cover roadway improvements between the airport and the industrial park.

Excavation, ditching and grading of a 100-foot right-of-way along 4,000 feet of roadway are to be included in the specifications to be advertised today, Webre said.

The project calls for installation of water, sewerage and drainage systems along the right-of-way, as well as laying of culverts, earth removal and compaction and clay and gravel grading, Webre reported.

The commission director said the newly-authorized applications will be based on an already-allocated $200,000 in federal funds made available through the Governor's Office plus an additional $200,000 in local money yet to be acquired.

The resulting $400,000 is to be the 40 percent local base to which it is anticipated the federal government will add another $600,000, bringing the overall improvement program $1 million closer to its projected total of $1.6 million.

Webre said he is highly optimistic about the county's chances for approval from EDA on the $1 million phase.

"We've had some indicators from the people in the Southeastern Regional Office of the EDA in Atlanta and from the agency's Washington office that they are sympathetic to continued improvement of the Stennis International complex," Webre added.

"Of course, there's no positive assurance...but we feel like we have good grounds on which to proceed," the official continued.

The commission could use the $200,000 of Title 304 funds allocated to Hancock County by Gov. Cliff Finch to add blacktopping to the work done with the previous $100,000, Webre said, adding, "...then we'd be stuck."

If the application for the $1 million is successful, Webre said, continued work would include completion of the roadways, completion of a water collection system, elevated water storage tank, sewerage collection and treatment facilities, and an outfall channel for effluent wastes.

"These improvements should meet the needs of the complex in those areas for the next 20 years," Webre feels.

Still remaining would be planned hanger and terminal building improvements to be covered by the remaining $600,000 of the projected $1.6 million program.

Rape...

Waveland Police Department since July 31, date of the alleged rape.

On that day, a girl, 15, was walking down "a street" when the subject reportedly stopped her at gun point and forced her into his automobile.

Driving to a remote area in the southwest part of the county, he allegedly slapped her around, forced her to disrobe under threat of fear, after which the rape took place," Ladner reported.

Following the incident, the suspect returned the victim to the vicinity of a Waveland bar where assistance was secured.

Six days later, on Aug. 5, two "little girls" were approached on a street in Waveland, by a male brandishing a gun.

The girls, later described by Ladner as teenagers, didn't respond to the demands of the gunman to enter his vehicle, instead ran away from the scene and called police.

An all-points bulletin was immediately issued but no apprehension was made that day.

On Saturday of last week, Sheriff's Office Deputy Delbert Seay and Auxiliary Deputy Floyd Fricke stopped a vehicle on US-90 for having an improper tag and inspection sticker. Subsequent investigations revealed that the vehicle met all the description of the gun-rape victim.

The suspect was apprehended and brought to the central lock-up.

The alleged rapist was then put into an identification line-up from which he was picked out by the victim and intended victims.

He will be arraigned before the Waveland City Court for preliminary hearing on Sept. 14, and before Judge Lee Klein of Beat 1, on Sept. 21.

Sheriff Ladner said special commendations in the case are due to Chief Donald Dorn and Officer Robert Tartavouille of the Waveland PD, and Deputy Mc Cowan of his office.

Data buoy...

In 1978, the buoy will begin transmitting its data by satellite.

EB-07 will be the third weather network moored data buoy deployed in the Atlantic Ocean. It will be positioned about 230 miles off Cape May, N.J., at 30 degrees N latitude, 70 degrees W longitude. Six other network buoys are now in the Pacific, monitoring the weather along the marine leg of the Trans-Alaskan Pipeline System and other ocean and coastal areas.

The buoy is designed to remain on station for one year unattended, and can withstand winds of 155 knots - 180 miles per hour - and waves 60 feet high.

The first U.S. ocean weather stations were established in January, 1940, by President Franklin D. Roosevelt. He assigned the ships as floating weather stations along the air route to London. They provided navigation, communications, weather reports and rescue at sea for passing ships and aircraft.

The weather ships received worldwide attention in 1947, when all 69 people aboard the ditched aircraft Bermuda Sky Queen were rescued by the USCGC Bibb, then on Ocean Station CHARLEY about 800 miles east of Newfoundland.

Role of council... the state watches

The Bay St. Louis City Council has begun to settle down to a four year stretch of city management with a zest that surprised many, and a determination that pleased about the same number.

Early in their tenure the council resisted the effort to have 'old ways' of doing business not necessarily accepted as their way of doing business.

Too, council set about to install a fair interpretation of Robert's Rules of Order and Parliamentary Procedure into their activities, resulting in the satisfactory limitation of some debates and a continually unexpected swift passage or denial of issues.

The framework of method for inclusion on the agenda is readily available, and if followed will result in its purpose being fulfilled.

Matters of the city are included on such agenda, as well as the affairs of the public judged by those in attendance to be of sufficient import to need the direct intervention of council.

But, there remains, it would seem, the other side of the coin, a side that must not remain in a static posture similar to that of the dark side of the moon.

Without implying derogation on or to any member of council, it would appear room exists for them to gather unto themselves their trappings of office and begin an advance into the field in which they were elected to serve, the field of legislation.

At the last session of council, one member very aptly stated that all the "... rules of this ball game are not yet written," referring of course to the guidelines so far issued by the State of Mississippi concerning a form of government in which this city is the leader.

Such a statement is probably true and herein lies the contention.

The impression garnered during the campaign was that council would serve as a legislative branch, the mayor as the executive branch, and the city attorney as the judiciary (in cohesion with the attorney general).

The rule-writers could well be awaiting the actions of this city council before composing a firm set of guidelines for future mayor-council governments, following a review of the manner in which this council accepts their legislative role and responsibility.

Too often the opinion of government, sought as a result of regional uncertainty, hesitation, or over-concentration on detail, results in the imposition of law unsatisfactory and unsuited to local circumstance.

A review of the laws now available to council leads to the opinion that these are of sufficient breadth to proffer ample maneuvering space without crossing into forbidden territory.

A review of the laws now available to council leads to the opinion that the state is trying to seek ways and means to permit local government to function on a more autonomous plane than in the past.

A review of the laws now available to council leads to the opinion that much of the 'buck' could stop here and the more important matters of government could provide sufficient wealth of content for council's attention.

The council perhaps should look now at taking this city out of the doldrums of non-advancement, except in the most accidental and lackadaisical manner, formulate a policy designed to put Bay St. Louis into a competitive posture of attractiveness to both resident and future resident alike, and this in a way designed to make each feel like they have a "piece of the action."

Bay St. Louis can become "the darlin' of the Coast," or remain in the same sad shape it has been for the last 'umpty' years.

The legislative actions of this council will decide.

It will serve no purpose to turn around four years from now and point the "fingers of failure" at the mayor, as so often has been the case.

The mayor is the executive branch and cannot act without the direction of council.

With apologies to the late Sir Winston Churchill, "Give him the tools, and let him do the job."

Opinion/Ellis Cuevas

How far will Waveland go

We can remember when Waveland was just a real country town.

There was only one policeman, who was Town Marshall and Tax Collector, no fire department, no garbage collection, no city gas department, and only a few paved streets. There were only a few streets, as we can name many that have come into existence.

For water you were lucky if you lived close to one of the few wells in town that were free flowing. If you lived a few blocks away, you had to wait your turn at times to get enough water to take a bath.

Street lights were very few and far between, many streets now have more than the whole town at that time.

The one thing Waveland now has that hasn't changed is its form of governing body. A mayor and four aldermen.

With this type of government Waveland has come a long way, we don't have to tell you how far, because you can drive around and see for yourself.

Why has Waveland been able to develop itself to the position it is in today many will ask. Well, the big answer has to be the way Waveland plans for the future. Now we don't talk about tomorrow, next week, next month, but years ahead. They just keep doing things a little at a time, but it is carried out in a planned schedule.

Since Waveland and Bay St. Louis adjoin, lots of folks like to compare the two in accomplishments. You can take the annexed areas of both cities, Waveland has given more service to its annexed area.

Waveland is on the grow, it will continue to grow, if the leaders do it the same way they have been doing it for the last 35 years.

The sky is the limit.

Road mess

Letter to the Editor
Sea Coast Echo

Prior to the most recent election of County Supervisors, the roads in Shoreline Park were next to perfect. The reason was the proper use of the road grader. The driver of the road grader would barely lower the blade, and it was that the blade actually touched the center of the road. Also, road material was moved from the side to the center leaving a gentle slope to the sides. The road was so solid that even when it rained, the water ran to the sides and no holes were present. Yazoo street in particular was almost perfect then, except for some grass growing, and the traffic usually matted the grass down.

But things changed for the worse when the latest election took place. The new man on the road grader did the exact opposite of the previous man. The road was now graded from the center to the side, leaving an almost level roadway. In so doing, the hard road was dug up and resulted in holes being formed when it rained. I spoke to the grader operator and told him the problem. He only laughed and has been grading improperly for over a year now. Yazoo St. is a mess.

The present Supervisor was informed several weeks ago, and he immediately took measures to salvage Yazoo St. It appeared that the supervisor talked to the grader operator; however, it also appears that the operator went out of his way to grade even deeper into the center of the road and deposit a high ridge of material way to the side where no traffic ever runs. As you drive down Yazoo observe, and ask yourself, "Is this happening to the streets in my area that were once good streets?" If so, see your beat supervisor!

Constitution signed - a date to remember

by JOE FILET

September 17 through 24 has been designated as Constitution Week. The President of the United States has urged those in authority throughout our land to proclaim, publish and announce the date and to call upon the American people to read and reflect upon the preamble, articles and amendments to the United States Constitution. This extraordinary document, signed in 1787, established a new form of government for our nation. That it has survived as the supreme law of the land for 190 years and enables the peoples of the United States to govern themselves as a free people is proof of its undisputed excellence both in purpose and fulfillment.

Framers of the Constitution met in Independence Hall of Philadelphia on May 25, 1787, with 55 delegates of which 39 remained throughout the long, hot summer to sign the document. These experienced, dedicated and patriotic men through proposals, debates, recommendations, compromises and exceptional foresight provided us with a document that has withstood the tests of wars, depressions, recessions, inflations, as well as times of unusual prosperity and growth.

The National Society Daughters of the American Revolution, largest women's hereditary patriotic organization in the country with approximately 200,000 members both endorses and promotes through its many chapters the observation of Constitution Week. This organization provides ceremonies, programs and meetings dedicated to awakening the spirit of patriotism during Constitution Week and instilling in our youth appreciation of our heritage and freedoms. Through this organization libraries are provided with patriotic book markers, posters are displayed and programs are given on radio and television to augment newspaper articles about the most important document in our history. Our Constitution has served as a model for nearly every country that has adopted a constitutional form of government. That the United States Constitution has never been fundamentally revised and was designed to serve the best interest of all of the people speaks more eloquently than words of its excellency in both purpose and phraseology. Noble guide-lines as outlined in the preamble were five in part, they were: (1) to form a more perfect union; (2) insure domestic tranquility; (3) provide for a common defense; (4) promote the general welfare; and (5) secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity.

The Sea Coast Echo throughout the years has dedicated space to Constitution Week. We are mindful and appreciative of our guarantee of freedom of the press as well as other freedoms dear to the American way of life. We urge a spirit of patriotism made evident in our community during Constitution Week through the display of the American flag and hope that our readers will find time to review the precise verbiage within the document. Let us re-dedicate ourselves to the defense of our Constitution - foundation of our precious freedoms.

Street repairs

The Editor,
Sea Coast Echo

Dear Sir:

In Sunday's Sea Coast Echo, I read your commendation to the City of Bay St. Louis on its effort to repair the pot holes in the streets due to the rain. Would you please find out why they don't do a more lasting job?

I live down Blue Meadow Road and the job they last did on this road, in the vicinity of the Shopping center at the highway, lasted about 4 days. It will stay with the holes again a couple of weeks or more and another job of a few lasting days will have to be done again. "Get with it, street department" and get the job done right.

Yours truly,
Mrs. M. Bell

Beach clean-up

The Editor,
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis, Ms.

Dear Sir:

In response to the letter of September 1 concerning the beach clean-up, it is obvious that the writer thereof, in less than a two-week period, has become dissatisfied with her place of residency; therefore, it is my conclusion that her attitude toward our section will obviously not improve with time, considering first impressions are usually everlasting. Considering she is so dissatisfied with this area, I suggest that she utilize the free time that she seemingly has, by finding a new area in which to live.

Red Cross Hurricane safety steps

The American Red Cross has issued nine steps to safety in case of a hurricane:

-Don't listen to rumors. Keep your radio and television on and listen to latest weather bureau advisories. If power fails, use a battery-powered radio.

-Store extra water and food, especially things that need little or no preparation, since you may be without gas, electricity and water. Be sure any emergency cooking facilities are safe and in working order.

-Securely fasten everything that might blow away or be torn loose, and, if possible, store inside. This includes awnings, furniture, garbage cans, tools, toys and signs.

-Leave low-lying areas and leave early, especially if roads may be under water later. If you need shelter, contact the Red Cross. If your home is on high land, stay in it, but be alert for possible flooding.

-Have flashlights and/or emergency lights handy and working. This means good batteries. Make sure you have first aid supplies ready.

-Open a window or door on the side of the house opposite the one facing the wind to relieve pressure. When the "eye" of the storm passes over there will be a lull in the wind. Stay inside - the wind will return suddenly from the opposite direction.

-Protect all windows and shutters, boards or tape - even small ones, as they may be broken by flying debris.

-See that your car has plenty of gas. If there is an electric power failure, gas stations may not be able to operate pumps for days.

-Notify your next of kin immediately if you change address due to disaster.

If you go to a shelter, take:

-special medicines such as prescriptions and insulin.

-special baby formula.

-diapers and sanitary napkins.

-blankets and flashlight.

Make plans to care for pets. They are not allowed in shelters.

In addition, be alert to Civil Defense evacuation plans and warnings.

encompass 4,500 square feet of dining area and a 2,500 square foot kitchen. Supt. J.D. McCulloch said the State Board of Education's Educational Finance Commission will allocate $12 per square foot for the new construction for a total of $84,000.

The superintendent said the EFC will also allow $19,125 based on the square footage to be renovated at North Bay. The North Bay project cost should come in at $17,000, according to Fred Wagner, board architect.

The cost breakdown at Junior High includes a total of $180,000 in construction, $20,000 in kitchen equipment and $14,000 in architect's fees.

Wagner said the primary expense at North Bay will be cost of a new freezer-hold storage unit. Most of the other work necessary at that school to satisfy board of health requirements has been accomplished by school board staff.

Following the board's actions Monday night, The County Board of Health's chief sanitarian Louis Fernandez said he will extend the two schools' permits to operate their lunch rooms to cover the periods required for construction and renovation.

Following approval of the Junior High preliminary plans, the board authorized Wagner to begin preparation of contract documents necessary to let construction bids on the project.

Wagner said the documents will require some 60 to 90 days to prepare at a cost of between $10,000 to $12,000 in architect's fees.

He told the board it may be possible to begin construction around the first of the year.

McCulloch noted the four mills of city ad valorem taxes allocated to the schools would be sufficient to secure $100,000 of the $130,000 cost remaining on the Junior High project after receipt of the $84,000 in state monies.

The superintendent said the board must make application to the city to raise the schools' millage allocation by one-quarter to one-half mill to finance the remaining $30,000.

Trustee William Breland noted due to inflationary trends... "we may be looking at a more realistic cost of $150,000 to finish the project."

The new facility at Junior High will be bounded on the north by Ulman Avenue, on the south by the vocational education building, gymnasium on the breaking even," Lee said.

He said the rains had permitted planting by July 4, but as they didn't cease since that time, planting still hadn't been completed by July 15, the accepted deadline for such activity.

Further, Lee told supervisors, the wet weather had caused farmers to lose control of weeds, caused blight, and hatched out an unprecedented crop of worms.

The disaster declaration will make low interest loans available to farmers for replanting and land working due to their having lost crop income.

Lee asked the supervisors to ask Washington to reassess their plight and ask President Jimmy Carter to make the declaration.

The supervisors were told that neither Senator Stennis nor Congressman Lott were aware of the seriousness of the situation but both had pledged their support, according to Lee.

Both Senator Smith and Representative Compretta had pledged their effort in conveying the supervisor's resolution to the governor for his personal attention.

The importance of Lee's mission was, he said, "realized by the fact that at harvest time the farmers faced payments on their property and equipment, and they simply did not have the money."

"This is apart from living expenses," the Bienville farmer said.

Several county farmers have already stated that if they could just get their money out of the soy bean crop they would sell "...right now!"

"We are facing bank foreclosures if the government does not act right now."

"The county farmer is willing to work but if he doesn't get assistance by mid-November it will be too late," Lee claimed.

County Agent John Smith, present at the meeting, said the county had some 18,000 acres in soybeans, up from his estimate of 8,280 last year.

Lee also stressed the importance of including all commodities in the declaration, not just the soybean farmer, stating the previous crop losses through drought were as important and needing as the latter claims.

Smith said he was in the middle of a survey of all soybean production and he is more than eager to make his findings available to the Jackson Emergency Committee office.

"I am 100 percent in favor of the farmers getting all they can," Smith said.

After hearing other farmers report on east and the school property line on the west.

Also at its monthly meeting Monday at Bay High School, the board declared excessive heat in trailer classrooms at North Bay an "emergency," waived normal bidding procedures, and accepted an unadvertised bid from Ronald Fletcher to install 2.5-ton air conditioning units in three trailers at the school.

In personnel actions, the board approved McCulloch's recommended appointment of James D. Baldree of Pearlinton as new principal of Waveland Elementary School, subject to Baldree's acceptance of the position and his release from the Hancock County School System.

Pamela J. Griffin of Bay St. Louis, formerly of Biloxi, was named special education teacher, level three, at Junior High.

James R. Holifield of Laurel was appointed to the district's physical education department. He will serve at Bay High, Junior High and North Bay.

The board took under advisement requests from W.J. Cameron and Roger James, principal and assistant principal, respectively, at Junior High, for supplemental salary increases based on newly acquired status as AAA-certified school administrators.

The board amended action taken last month revising the leave policies affecting contract teachers.

The new policy provides five days per year sick leave, cumulative to 30 days; two days per year personal leave, non cumulative; ten days per year personal leave plus one day for every year of service in the district, these days incurring to the teacher a cost of $20 per day for substitute teacher.

Any additional days leave will cost the teacher one full day's pay per day of leave.

In other action, the board:

-Retired into executive session for some 20 minutes. Board President Mrs. Joseph Gex reported no affirmative action taken by the board in the executive session, however the board acted with little discussion on the emergency purchase of trailer air conditioners following the session.

-Received a report from McCulloch on increased enrollments in the system, up 100 students over the 1,900 who reported last year.

the necessity for extensive aerial spraying and replanting, supervisors called for the motion.

The county cites extensive rains, loss of weed control, previous drought conditions, and worm infestation as the base for their resolution, stressing that many farmers borrowed money against the crop and their real property to finance operations costs and equipment.

The resolution states, in part, "...because of the late planting and the destruction by insects and the inability to control the weeds in the various soy bean patches, many soy bean farmers will not be able to meet their operating costs and will suffer severe financial losses that would be disastrous to many of them because of heavy debts and possible loss of property through foreclosures."

After citing losses sustained by watermelon farmers the resolution adds "... Now, therefore, be it resolved that the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Mississippi, go on record requesting that the Governor of the State of Mississippi, shall declare Hancock County a disaster area because of the extreme drought in the early part of the planting season, and the severe weather conditions since the early part of July to the present date, and further request that the Governor contact the proper federal officials in Washington in order to have Hancock County declared as a disaster area so that financial assistance may be given to the many farmers in Hancock County who plant soy beans and watermelons and depend on these crops for their livelihood, and further that a copy of this resolution be sent to the United States Senators from Mississippi and the Congressional Delegate from the Fifth Congressional District.

Controversy arose at the Farm Bureau session concerning the qualifications of its board to declare the county as being a disaster area in spite of the proffered weight of evidence by both Lee and some of its membership.

President Louis Breux indicated a more practical and far reaching approach would be to call for the proper officials (the county emergency committee) to update their findings, sending them to Jackson along with a request for a reassessment of the local situation.

The majority of members voted with Breux who also called on membership to carefully consider their vote when next the ballots for ASCS and the Soil Conservation Service committees were circulated.

RECREATION

The "Fall Season" got off to a successful start with the monthly game session which took place on Monday, Sept. 12th, at 1:30 p.m.

Everything started off with a bang as Jimmy Walker, of the star T.V. series would say "DYN-O-MITE."

In spite of the bad weather 115 Seniors had an enjoyable afternoon. Everyone is a winner at our monthly games, which are free to all Seniors 60 years of age and over.

Refreshments consisting of home made cakes and ice tea were served following the games. A lot of credit goes to our Retired Senior Volunteer Program members, all of who are a valuable asset at all of our functions. The history of Hancock County

HISTORY AND HOUSES OF
HANCOCK COUNTY
HISTORIC SITES SURVEY COMMITTEE
HANCOCK COUNTY HISTORICAL SOCIETY
Margaret M. Gibbons
Historic Sites Survey
Committee Chairman
Oddie Carter
Publicity Chairman

The history of the settlers and architecture of structures varies from one locality or community to another as it is related to the history of its people. It is evident that our architectural history will not be identical to that of other coast developments in the United States as we know the history of our people is not alike, thus our visual history is evidence of what our past was.

Between the years of 1699 and 1702 France had established Fort Biloxi and then under the direction of Pierre le Moyne d'Iberville a settlement was moved to Mobile. Its survival due almost entirely to perseverance and administrative ability of d'Iberville and to that of Bienville the younger brother who was in immediate charge after 1701. Between these years the bases were established and reconnaissance and stabilization work was begun. It was during this time that Hancock County was inhabited by the Choctaw Indians and visited by May of 1700, by d'Iberville reconnaissance, or exploring expeditions.

The early colonists came from Canada and France and built homes and passed on their traditions to each generation. The earliest building methods were what we would now consider medieval as well as the tools that were used. They were very simple in construction being usually of notched logs, or of upright timbers, and by 1714 the houses built by the French were of timber work. The spaces between the timbers were filled with a sort of cement made of clay, or mud, whose uniform surface was from local shell. Some houses were surrounded by a gallery.

On Dauphin Island houses were "staked plated in the ground" a simple but covered with rush reeds. They had no lodgings for soldiers or officers. 1716 Mobile was an unfinished village with parallel streets, plots large enough for a house and garden, divided uniformly into blocks of 300 square feet each. Gardens were enclosed with stakes.

By 1740 houses built of notched logs had upright timbers set in ground. The cracks were stopped with clay and sticks to keep out the cold. The floor was commonly made of dirt, though sometimes wood or brick or stone was used. For heating and cooking there was the fireplace with a brick or stone hearth. There was no glass for the windows, and the roof was usually of wooden shingles, or "clap-boards" fastened on with wooden pins. The more wealthy inhabitants built their houses of hewn timber or of stone, if it was common to that area.

In the seventeenth century New England style buildings were constructed of great hewn oak beams framed together a wall at a time with mortise and tenon dovetail joints, and pinned together with wooden tree nails. Windows were small casements filled with oiled paper or little leaded panes of glass and doors were made of vertical boards and battens.

The mark of the hand tool was visible in every part of the house, shingles, laths and clapboards were hand riven; beams were cut to fit, numbered for place, dressed with the broad axe and chamfered at the corners; sheathing boards and floor boards were hand planed; nails, hinges and other hardware were hand wrought. Mortar was made with shell lime, or in northern states from lime deposits. Plaster was bound together with hair.

The exposed frame construction, fireplaces and hand-workmanship makes even the simplest seventeenth century building a study in medieval carpenter craftsmanship. The earliest baking ovens were located on the back wall. Inside walls were sheathed or lathed and plastered, in some cases.

Do not assume because you have a small building of simple design that it is not of historical architectural significance. If you believe you have a building of simple early design which is still in existence for the preservation and protection of these buildings write to the HISTORIC SITES SURVEY COMMITTEE, P.O. BOX-1340, BAY ST. LOUIS, MS. 39520 or Phone 467-3907 for registration.

An all-day celebration marked the Centennial Anniversary on Dec. 7, 1952, Rev. C.S. Schultz then being pastor, an event attended by Bishop Marvin Franklin.

The parsonage, costing $26,000 was built while Rev. A. Lamar Martin was pastor, a period also marked by the advent of Hurricane Camille, the razing of the old parsonage and educational building, and the construction of the present, new educational building at a cost of some $90,000 on the corner of Second and Court Streets.

Dr. Gilbert Oliver, present pastor, has retired all outstanding building debts, has had the outside of the church building and the Fellowship Hall painted and drawn up plans to enclose and utilize the space between the church and Fellowship Hall.

The original communion service is contained in a wall display case constructed by the late Wallace Chevis, as was the repository housing the Book of Remembrance.

Pre-schoolers pass at HNC

Free admission to the Hancock North Central Hawk Stadium has been extended to include all pre-school age children.

The amendment to previous policy was made Saturday at a recessed meeting of the county school board.

Action was taken on the pre-school child situation following a request made following the first 'on site' games of the year.

Three substitute teachers, Mrs. Ruth Breland, Mrs. Rose Acker, and Mrs. Louise Jackson, were approved for Gulfview School, and a second personnel change involved the shifting of Charles Lyle from math to history, and the engagement of Michael G. Gemelli to fill the math slot, both at Hancock North Central High School.

Pass Christian and D'Iberville have both been rated high in the Pascagoula River Conference. Talking to Pass coach Bob Rogers, the rating doesn't mean much. "Those ratings don't mean a whole lot. It depends on what you do on the field, not what someone thinks you can do," commented Rogers during a practice session recently. Rogers will get to see what his Pirates can do when they take on the D'Iberville Warriors Friday night on the Road.

The Pirates got their first test two weeks ago and came through it with flying colors with a 28-12 win over Vancleave. D'Iberville fared as well in its opener with a 14-6 win over the East Central Hornets. Since then the Warriors have taken a 33-6 win over Long Beach.

In the second week of the season the Pass team took a week off and will go into Friday's game with only one contest under their belts to D'Iberville's two.

Two points in the Pirates favor are the size and speed of the team. Rogers was impressed on both counts. "This is the fastest squad we've had since I've been here. It is also the biggest. I'm not used to the type of size we have this year," commented Rogers in the pre season.

After finishing second behind PRC co-champions East Central and D'Iberville last year, Rogers feels that his team "will be better everywhere" this season. The Pirates went 6-4 overall last year and finished 6-2 in the conference race.

Rogers has had to replace his entire offensive backfield this season. The new players don't seem to be suffering from their lack of experience. Sophomore tailback Gene Lang has made an exceptional showing for the Pass team with three touchdowns in his first game. Lang's touchdown show against Vancleave was part of his seven carry, 82 yard performance. The sophomore speedster is joined in the Pass backfield by fullback Ed Martin and either Virgil Swanier or Pat Barnes will start for the Pirates at quarterback. Presently Rogers is torn between the running of Swanier and the passing of Barnes. Both are juniors on the Pass team.

Other offensive starters for the Pirates are expected to be: Malcolm Dedeaux at split end, Loni Jenkins at tight end and Robert Bailey at flanker. Jenkins is a 190 pound senior while Dedeaux weighs in at 186 in his junior year and Dedeaux will all serve double duty for the Pirates on defense as well. Although he is a believer in the platoon system, Rogers feels that due to the size of his team he needs to use these players on both sides of the ball.

Other defensive starters for the Pass team will be senior Kevin Gallagher and Kenny Cuevas at guards. John Pat Swanier and Emile Paschall go at defensive backs for the Pirates.

Hawks undefeated, Tigers 1-1

Hancock, Bay High renew rivalry

KILN-It will be size against finesse when the Hancock North Central Hawks host the Bay High Tigers here Friday night. Bay High will stake its size advantage against the speed of the Hawks.

According to Hancock head coach Irvin Favre the Hawks will try to finesse the larger Bay High team. That is if the weather will give the Hancock team a break.

"We are coming along pretty well, with the weather the way it is. We are trying to work on our passing game but we can't find a dry ball to throw. Our kicking game is also suffering from the weather. When the ball gets wet it gets hard to kick. We wanted to work on our kicking game but haven't had a chance," added the coach.

Take a short trip down highway 603 and visit Bay High and the story is about the same. The rain doesn't play any favorites.

"The rain has cost us three or four Monday practices," says Bay coach Billy Rhodes. "Monday is a big day for us. That's when we get most of our work done. That's when we have our long work outs. Now we have been having to catch up on Tuesday and Wednesday and that has put us behind. We're catching up pretty well though."

Favre classified the game as a matchup between city and country. He feels that this adds to the rivalry of the game and puts it at the top of his schedule along with St.

Stanislaus.

"This is one of our big rivalry games. This and St. Stanislaus are about our biggest. A lot of our players know some of their players and that adds a little more to the game," added Favre. "When we play Bay High you can throw away the record book. It might as well be the first game of the season. We are 2-0 now and they are 1-1. I'm sure they'll want to put us in the loss column."

Bay High's first loss came last week against East Central when the Tigers took a 21-0 whitewash at the hands of the Hornets. The first loss of the season combined with last year's loss to the Hawks has added some extra incentive to Rhodes' troops.

"We have been working hard this week and I feel we will be ready for the game. We feel bad about our poor performance last week. We know we didn't do a good job and the players know it too. We want to make up for that," said Rhodes.

The Tigers will have 22 or 23 players back from last year's 6-0 loss to the Hawks and Rhodes is sure the game is still fresh in the minds of his players. It was the first time the Hawks had ever beaten the Bay High team.

Rhodes feels the key to success will be in the play of his linemen. He hopes his team will be able to stop the scoring machine of Vincent Adams and Dennis Nelson of Hancock.

"They run the wishbone and they do it well. We have to control the line of scrimmage if we want to stay in the ball game. We have to stop them at the line before they get time to use that speed in the open field. Adams and Nelson are good ball players and we have to be able to retain them if we hope to win."

The two teams will meet on what is expected to be a wet field at Hancock North Central at 7:30 Friday night.

BWYC to host Monk Regatta

MONK SMITH REGATTA - Bay-Waveland Yacht Club will host the annual GYA Monk Smith Regatta on Sept. 17 and 18.

This regatta and trophy are dedicated to the memory of Lester J. "Monk" Smith who was an excellent sailor and active race committee member at BWYC until he died in 1952. At that time

Commodore Henry Chapman proposed that a trophy be donated in his memory and soon thereafter the Monk Smith Trophy was presented to the Commodore by Larry Larroux, Fish Class Chairman. It was first sailed for in 1953 and won by Biloxi Yacht Club.

This year Bay-Waveland anticipates about sixty to seventy boats competing in the various classes; GYA Capdevielle Flying Scot, Open Flying Scot, Fish, Lasers, Senior and Junior Sunfish.

Captain Pete Morrill, Regatta Chairman, has announced that registration will take place between 10 and 12 Saturday, Sept. 17. The Skippers' Meeting will be at 12:00 noon. The start of the first race is scheduled for 1:00 p.m. and the second race for 3:30. The third race will be at 10:30 Sunday morning.

The Snack Bar will be open at 11:00 a.m. and will serve lunch and beverages. Informal dinner will be served in the Club dining room at 6:00 p.m. Saturday after the races and at noon on Sunday. Trophies will be presented at 2:00 p.m.

THIS WEEK'S WINNER - Bill Taylor of Bay St. Louis collected $10 as this week's winner of the Sea Coast Echo's football contest. Taylor finished ahead of Bruce Cabell who took $5 for second place.

The first, an Italian dinner, will be held at 5:30 p.m. on Oct. 8. The dinner will be held in the St. Stanislaus cafeteria and will consist of Italian dishes only.

The second of many functions sponsored by the club will be a turkey shoot on Oct. 23. The 23rd annual shoot will start at 11 a.m. and will continue throughout the day at the football stadium. There will be separate ranges for 12 guage and 410 guage shotguns. There will be two categories in the competition with a general shoot and a special shoot.

Tickets to the Italian dinner can be obtained from any member of the club or the school office for $2.50 each. Tickets to the turkey shoot will be available within a few weeks according to the club.

Gulfview downs HNC

KILN--The Gulfview Elementary School football squads took two wins over Hancock North Central here Monday with the fifth and sixth graders taking a 16-0 victory over the Hawks and seventh and eighth graders winning by a 36-14 margin.

Donald Graham, Sam Rush, and John Boy Moran highlighted the first scoring drive by the Bulldogs with Moran going the final 40 yards on a reverse for the score. Rush added the extra points with a plunge through the middle.

The final touchdown of the game came in the second half when quarterback Graham scored on the sixth play of the Gulfview drive. Graham also added the extra points for the final 16-0 tally.

In the second game of the day Donald Carver scampered 55 yards off tackle on the first play from scrimmage for the opening Gulfview touchdown. Lafayette Greer added two points to put the Bulldogs up 8-0.

After the Bulldog defense led by Carlo "Bull" Busch and Ronnie Surret shut down the Hawk offense the Bulldogs again took control. This time it took only three plays for the Gulfview team to push the ball into the endzone. Carver again did the honors with a 60 yard run. Greer tacked on two more to give the Bulldogs a 16-0 advantage after only six offensive plays.

Jay Lee added another touchdown with a 30 yard run on a reverse. Carver added his final TD of the night with an 80 yard scamper with Lee doing the honors for the extra two points. Lee then hits Mark Santalla for the final Gulfview touchdown of the night.

Hancock went scoreless through the first half before adding two touchdowns after intermission.

Bulldogs credited with outstanding jobs in the game were Nelson Crossdale, Busch, Lee, Carver, Surret, Greer, Santalla, David Carver and Tim Surret.

St. Clare takes first win

The St. Clare Warriors, under the direction of Charlie Moss, won their season opener 32-0 over C. B. Murphy recently. The Warriors were last year's conference champions in the fourth, fifth and sixth grade division.

The offensive push was led by Fred Peterman with four touchdowns. Dean DeSalvo added another TD and John Moss tacked on two conversions.

Coach Moss also gave praise to his offensive line which did an excellent job of blocking in the game, according to the coach. The defensive unit was led by Vance Young with a touchdown-saving tackle. Armand Serpas also contributed a fumble recovery for the Warriors. Marty Sahuave was cited for generally outstanding defensive play.

The Warriors next game will be Saturday at 10 a.m. against Annunciation on the St. Clare's field.

PP&K registration is set

Registration is now underway for the 1977 Punt, Pass and Kick competition for the Bay-Waveland area. Interested boys and girls between the ages of eight and 13-years-old can register in the showroom of Charlie Henderson's Ford on U.S. 90 at the Bay-Waveland city limits.

In making the announcement, Henderson said, "We are looking forward to a big local PP&K competition in Bay-St. Louis and Waveland on Oct. 1. We hope all the eligible youngsters will come in to register and take part."

The actual competition will take place Oct. 1 from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. at Elwood Memorial Park at the corner of Waveland Ave. and Central Ave. in Waveland.

Henderson pointed out that PP&K - throughout its six levels of competition - is free of any charge, and that youngsters need only have a parent or guardian accompany them to the showroom to register.

"Our competition here will have 1st, 2nd and 3rd place trophies for contestants in each of the six age groups, or 18 trophies in all," said Henderson. "Increasing each entrant's chances of winning is the fact that youngsters compete only against others in their own age group," said the Ford Dealer.

"Of course there is no body contact in PP&K. It's punting, passing and place-kicking for distance and accuracy points, just as the name says. First place winners in each age group in our competition will go on to the Zone competition. And from there, top winners go on up the ladder through District, Area, Division and National Finals," he said.

"This year the National Finals will be held at Super Bowl XII in New Orleans on January 15, 1978. Naturally, we hope some of our Bay-Waveland PP&K winners will make it all the way to the Finals," Henderson said.

The Ford Dealer further explained that each entrant, upon registering, receives a free PP&K Tips Book. In the 1977 edition there are competition tips by NFL stars Marv Bateman, Ken Stabler, and Toni Linhart. The Tips Book also includes complete PP&K rules and helpful conditioning exercises for contestants.

PP&K registration will close at Henderson's Ford on September 30.

This is the 17th anniversary year of PP&K. From its inception the youth activity has been sponsored by the Ford Dealers of America in cooperation with the National Football League. In that time, more than 14 million youngsters have taken part in PP&K, making it one of the largest youth activities.

Pearl River College  Teal season opens slowly  suffers first loss POPLARVILLE - Pearl River Junior College's Wildcat coaches were in a rather quiet mood here Monday afternoon. No one had to ask the reason why, because by now everyone with even the least little bit of interest in Mississippi Junior College football knew that the Jones Bobcats had beaten the PRC Wildcats last Saturday night.

Now losing at Pearl River is not totally uncommon - it does happen. However, it is certainly not something that takes place with any type of regularity. In fact, Pearl River has lost only 13 games during the last nine years.

Pearl River coaches even say that losing every now and then can make a team stronger and more determined. But the thing that has the Wildcat coaches a little out of character is the fact that Jones beat PRC 27-6. That's three touchdowns, and that just doesn't happen to a Pearl River team very often.

Coaches, players and fans were just "sick" over the performance and outcome of Saturday night's action. And the word sick has several connotations. Not only was everyone disappointed, but several of the players were actually sick with head colds and fever.

Jeff Davis, the sophomore starting quarterback from Hattiesburg and the spark plug for the offensive unit, was sick all week. In fact he missed practice every day last week except Thursday and that day he was too weak to practice very long.

Davis was able to play only seven plays against the Bobcats and according to J. C. Arban, Wildcat head coach, who was also sick all week, his absence had a psychological effect on the Cats.

"With Jeff healthy I think we could have scored more," Arban said, "and that would have lifted the entire team's spirit." Pearl River's first half offensive production was nil. The Cats did not manage a single first down and the combined offensive production was a minus 9 yards.

"Jones was harassing us in that first half," Arban said, "they had us just where they wanted us. And in the second half when freshman Joey Howard finally settled down, we fumbled, stumbled and fooled around until it was too late."

Pearl River spent most of their time deep within their own territory, during the first half. "I just couldn't take a chance on Joey throwing the ball under those circumstances," Arban mentioned.

In the second half, Howard did start uncorking the ball, while picking up nearly 150 yards and one touchdown to Memphis McAbbee. Joey had the team moving but untimely fumbles and penalties added to the Wildcat's frustration.

Emotion may have played a part in the Wildcat's loss, but two solid reasons were the ineffectiveness of the offensive line and the slow reaction of the defensive unit.

"I don't know what to do," Arban said, "our linemen have to get tough or the backs we have will never get a chance to move the ball." Arban still thinks his linemen will get better, but he admits it will take a little more time and a lot more effort on their part.

Defensively the Wildcats lack the emotion that goes with a typical Pearl River defense. "We have to get mean and move quickly," Arban warned.

Overall Arban is hoping that the morale of his team will not be too low this week. "I don't think we will have a bad attitude this week," Arban said.

Davis will miss practice the first part of the week and Howard and freshman David Wyman will fill his shoes. "I thought Joey did a good job under the circumstances, in fact, he ran the ball real well for the first time. It's just we need more of an overall team effort."

Rain and more rain Monday did not help the overall afternoon. Wet conditions meant players and coaches alike would be inside going over films of last Saturday and of East Mississippi scheduled for Dobbie Holden Stadium this week.

"Last week embarrassed me," Arban commented, "and I really have to take the blame for the loss. I just didn't have everyone ready."

The saltwater fishing seems to be improving, there have been more fish caught this week than there have been in the past several weeks. This is about the time of the year when the flounders and redfish really start to move in, especially the larger ones.

As far as freshwater fishing there just hasn't been much to talk about. The water in the rivers and bayous isn't as messed up as most people think it is.

Teal season opened on Saturday, but I haven't noticed as many teal hunters this year as I have in past years. Most of the hunters have rental skiffs, live and dead bait as well as other equipment for the fisherman. (Mrs. Toxie Hall, LaFrances Fishing Camp)

KILN: The water is pretty muddy up here, but some green trout are being caught in the Jourdan River. Bob Lyons caught nine nice trout, they averaged ¾ to 1½ lbs. each.

Mr. Smith from Lakeshore caught some tabby cats in the Jourdan River. Fishing should improve this week, the water should start cleaning up, depends on the weather. (Mr. Andy Ladner, Andy's Bait Shop, at Kiln Supermarket) shape, it had a peculiar color but is clearing up. The tide is running out good late in the afternoon. The fishing should improve soon. We open at 5:00 on weekends and at sunrise on weekdays. We have some Roy Baxter, Pearl River Marina)

JOE'S BAYOU: The people that have been going out have been catching fish. The fishing was kind of slow

Saturday because of bad weather. Most of the fish are being caught in the river. There were quite a few people out on Monday. They have been catching redfish up the river. The water isn't as bad as most people believe. There have been plenty of crabs in the river so the water must be good. We have live and dead bait, and rental skiffs. We open at 5:00. (Mrs. Allie Cospellich, Joe's Bayou Marina) that I've talked to only managed to bag one or two teal each time they've gone.

Boaters should especially be aware of floating debris in our local rivers and bayous, because all the high water we've had is bringing logs, boards, and other debris out of the swamps and marshes.

There's going to be a bass tournament held on the Pearl River this Sunday. The tournament is being put on by the Dealers Tackle Box in Long Beach. There will be two people per boat and the prizes will be awarded according to weight per boat.

There will be a 10 bass limit and a 12 inch length limit (no bass under 12 in. will be eligible). This is supposed to be the biggest bass tournament ever held in this area. 1st place will be $500 and prizes will also be awarded for 2nd through 20th place.

The entrance fee is $15. The gun will sound at about daylight Sunday morning at the foot of the Highway 90 bridge over the Pearl River.

ANSLEY: The fishing has been good out of here this week. Sunday afternoon Reggie Palmer and Bill Johnson from Picayune caught 156 specks and seven flounders in outside Campbell's Bayou. Kim Hudson caught a 23 lb. red at Half Moon Island. A man and his grandson from Gulfport caught 21 flounders at Redfish Bayou. There were several other good catches made. The flounders, specks, and redfish are biting really good now. We open at 5:00 every day, we

BAYOU CADDY: There's not much good fishing news, not that many fish being caught. What we really need is some good weather. We are looking forward to improved weather conditions and the fishing picking up. Mr. Kirk Abbott from Algiers, who has a summer home in Waveland caught 10-12 trout and redfish, five or six reds and five or six trout, - they averaged two to three lbs. He caught one five lb. trout. (Mr. Borge, Borge Bros. Marina)

PEARLINGTON: The saltwater fishing has been pretty good. One man fishing out of here caught 40 specks averaging 2-3 lbs. on live bait near the oil rigs in Lake Borgne. The freshwater fishing has been poor. The water in the river is in good

Dracula cast announced by Bay Little Theatre

Ted Stechmann, director of the third production of the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre 1977 season, has announced the cast of characters for the three act drama, "Dracula", based on the novel by Bram Stoker.

Portraying the two male leads of Count Dracula and Abraham Van Helsing are the superb duo performers of last season's "Sleuth", Doug Koger and Ed Craig. Supporting Koger and Craig are Walter Vaughn, Skip Wusack, Debbie Shafer, Jay Heltzmann, Loren Hover and Nannette Stroh.

In charge of production is Roger Scharp, John Holmes is technical director and set decoration of this 1920's period play is by Ken Matthew.

Performances of "Dracula" are tentatively scheduled for early October at the playhouse on Boardman Avenue.

Director Stechmann has been active in the local theatre since the 1950's while a student at St. Stanislaus. He began his association building sets, gathering props and learning technical techniques. He graduated to performing and has developed into one of the local theatre's better comedy actors. Most recently he gave a flawless interpretation of Ben Franklin in the musical "1776". He made his debut as a director last season with the production of "Subject to Change."

The presentation of "Dracula" will be quite a challenge for the young director, but one he has always wanted to accept. Mr. Stechmann has assembled a fine cast and technical crew and blended with his talents, "Dracula" is sure to be another fine production of the 1977 season.

ACT test set for OLAcademy

Students at Our Lady's Academy considering attending college after graduation will have five opportunities during the 1977-78 school year to use the ACT Assessment Program, a guidance-oriented service that is used each year by students throughout the nation as part of their college and career planning.

The first of five national test dates on which the ACT Assessment tests will be offered is Saturday morning, Oct. 8. Junior or senior students planning to take the exams on that date must have registered this week, it was announced by Sister Rose Marie, Director of Guidance.

The full 1977-78 schedule of national test dates (with registration periods in parentheses) is: Oct. 8, 1977

(Aug. 8-Sept. 12); Nov. 19, 1977 (Sept. 26-Oct. 21); Feb. 11, 1978 (Nov. 14-Jan. 13); April 1, 1978 (Feb. 6-March 3); June 17, 1978 (March 27-May 19).

At area test centers on those dates it takes students about three hours to complete four standardized exams (covering subject areas of English, math, social studies, and natural sciences) that make up the Test Section. The ACT Assessment's other important section is a two-part questionnaire that is completed by students at home as part of the registration process.

The test scores provide an assessment of general educational development and the questionnaire section information focuses on academic and nonacademic accomplishments and interests, anticipated needs, as well as educational and career plans.

The resulting test scores and extensive questionnaire information are used by students and their counselors and families to assist in education and career planning. The information is also used by colleges for academic advisement, admissions, counseling, course sectioning and placement, student services, and institutional research.

The basic student fee is $7.50 for the ACT Assessment Program, which is recommended or required for use by student applicants at more than 2,600 colleges and scholarship agencies.

The ACT Assessment Program is one of several guidance-oriented educational services provided for students and educational institutions by ACT (The American College Testing Program). With its national headquarters in Iowa City, Iowa, the non-profit organization also maintains 13 regional offices in other parts of the nation.
